

silver said the importations of this high-grade steel increased from 778,000 pounds in 1901 to $456,000 pounds in 1907.

Beveridge Is Pleaded.
The wire schedule was amended on motion of Mr. Aldrich, so that in only one instance was there any increase in duty over the House bill, while in eight or ten instances the duties were lowered. Fencing wire was reduced to the extent of about two-thirds of the duty provided in the House bill. While Mr. Aldrich was explaining these amendments Mr. Beveridge interrupted to say:

"I am very glad to see that we are making progress."
An amendment by Mr. Burkett, the effect of which is to reduce the duty on barbed wire from $2.70 per hundred pounds to 75 cents, was accepted by the Committee on Finance and adopted by the Senate.

The section relating to pen knives, also was amended so as to restrict the name of the manufacturer, or the importer, to be stamped, and the name of the country of origin be stamped on at least one blade, as a protection against fraudulent representation as to place of origin. Mr. Beveridge expressed the opinion that Congress had no right to interfere with private business in that way. Mr. Lodge reminded him that much of the cutlery imported into the United States was marked as American manufacture, and that the purchasers were thereby deceived. He said the object of the amendment was to protect the consumer.

"I am glad there is exhibited every once in a while in this bill an interest in the consumer," said Mr. Bailey with a broad smile.

Slap at Newlands.
Mr. Newlands was again conspicuous in the discussion of the day, and was very persistent in seeking information. He finally tried the patience of Mr. Aldrich, when he asked the chairman whether an import duty was based on the cost of the domestic price or the foreign price.

"If the Senator from Nevada has not yet reached that state of knowledge which permits him to know that fact, I do not believe it is worth while to continue this controversy," remarked Mr. Aldrich, resuming his seat.

Later Mr. Newlands made the report of the Russell Sage Foundation on industrial conditions in Pittsburgh, the text of an attack on the protective system. He called on Mr. Oliver, of Pennsylvania, who lives in Pittsburgh, to explain why the conditions of the laboring classes were such as depicted in the report. Mr. Oliver, who is a prominent manufacturer, where it is admitted, much wealth has been produced as the result of protection given to the manufacturing interests. Mr. Oliver did not accept the invitation to reply.

Razors for Social Purposes.
Mr. Simmons proposed general reductions in the duties on razors, opposing the increase on the class of razors made commonly in use from 50 to 99 per cent.

Senator Smith (Michigan) wanted to know whether the interest in the rate was on account of revenue or to promote cheap prices in razors.
"It is to obtain more reasonable prices," said Mr. Simmons.
"For domestic or social purposes," inquired Mr. Smith, with the result that for the moment the Senate was convulsed with laughter.

Down in the very center of the country they are used partly for social purposes," responded Mr. Simmons.
"Especially among the Republican population," interposed Senator Bailey.
Mr. Simmons wanted to know why it is 50 per cent. was sufficient protection for razors under the Dingley law, 99 per cent. should now be required.

Without completing the schedule the Senate went into executive session.

affairs, amounting to gross maladministration, has been exposed. The truth will not be published, but the writer ventures to predict the early removal of Admiral Sir John Fisher, who has been the autocrat of the navy for the past five years.

The grounds for his removal probably will be that he has been unfaithful to his own program and has pursued a devious course, which has almost crippled the service as regards its financial resources for war. It is quite likely that his successor will be Admiral Sir Lewis Beaumont.

Supraglottic Bazaar a Failure.
The latest supraglottic bazaar, organized by the Woman's Social and Political Union, for the purpose of raising funds for the supraglottic movement, was a failure, as London has tired of the supraglotticists, and all their doings. A polling booth, where women were urged to register their votes on various supraglottic issues, such as daylight saving and the censorship of plays, fell flat. Only a small proportion of the visitors to the bazaar took the trouble to vote. The supraglotticists, who were disappointed at the failure of the bazaar, sold autographed books by distinguished authors sympathetic with the supraglottic movement, with the most successful feature of the bazaar.

Americans in London.
Latest fact is to have. Anon Meet Steamer on Which They Travel.

(Special Cable to The Times-Dispatch.)
LONDON, May 15.—Dinners and dances have been the chief forms of recreation this week. Many Americans were present at Lady Evelyn Guinness's dance in honor of the Prince and Princess of Teck. Messdames Harry Higgins, Whitehead, Lord and Lady Alastair, Innes-Ker and Wilfrid D'Essey were some of the guests.

Cousins Pappenheim and Cora, Lady Strathford, gave dinners for Lady Maud Hastings. Cousins Pappenheim gave a dance at the Ritz Hotel for her daughter, Countess Pauline. It was a successful affair. There were about 400 guests, among whom were Misses Host, Scrantom, Galun, Mildred and Carter. The dance was preceded by a dinner at which there were forty guests.

Mrs. Armour Moore was a dinner hostess at her beautiful new home in Portman Square. The Reids were among the guests.

The Duchess of Roxburgh has taken a large house in Grosvenor Square for the season, and is now installed there.

Good Blood.
Means good health, and Hood's Sarsaparilla has an unparalleled record as a blood-purifier.

It effects its wonderful cures, not simply because it contains sarsaparilla, but because it combines the utmost remedial values of more than 20 different ingredients. There is no substitute for it. If tried to any purgative, it is said to be "just as good," you may be sure it is inferior, costs less to make, and yields the dealer a larger profit.

with Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt and family as guests.

Maldwin Drummond and wife are at the Ritz Hotel, as much to their disappointment, their new house in Carlton House Terrace will not be completed this season.

Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt are expected at the Hotel Ritz next week. Dr. and Mrs. Reineck are in the vicinity for a short stay after motoring in Italy.

Mrs. Catt and the Misses Shaw and Anthony intend motoring in England for rest and change after their labor in the suffrage cause here.

The latest fad among rich Americans is to have their motors meet the steamers on which they travel. On the arrival of the Mauretania Mr. Whitney and his party came to London in an automobile, as did Mr. N. Waterbury and Mr. and Mrs. Gus Mayer.

(Special Cable to The Times-Dispatch.)
LONDON, May 15.—A girl, who, his friends will become as popular as Caruso, has been discovered in Aldo Squarci, a Florentine sculptor, who is now traveling in the voice with a view to an engagement at the Berlin opera this winter.

Squarci was discovered in Florence by the German Crown Prince, who commissioned him to make a bust in Berlin. Here the sculptor became engaged to a girl, who is now traveling in the voice with a view to an engagement at the Berlin opera this winter.

Eventually Judge Lefevre followed the sculptor to Florence and there induced him to cancel the engagement.

Jungle Gets a Breathing Spell While Colonel Records Adventures.

(Special Cable to The Times-Dispatch.)
LONDON, May 15.—Theodore Roosevelt, who is at present the guest of George McMillan at the Ju Ja ranch, whether he reports on his adventures in the Congo or on his river country, spent his first day at the ranch in his room resting from the fatigue of his journey. He has, however, begun work on a series of articles dealing with his adventures in the Congo.

This was yesterday, and to-day Mr. Roosevelt continued writing, but he found time also to visit parts of the McMillan estate and to discuss the prospects of the Congo with the host. Mr. Roosevelt will resume his shooting expeditions on Monday of next week.

KILLED HIS MOTHER

Beat Her in Head With Hammer and Then Stabbed Himself.

(Special Cable to The Times-Dispatch.)
SOUTH BEND, IND., May 15.—Charles Rapp, who has considerable local fame as a baseball pitcher, tonight killed his mother and then committed suicide. Rapp, according to the police, had been drinking, and when his mother pleaded with him to give up liquor, he grabbed a hammer, and after beating her on the head, stabbed her with a butcher-knife, which he snatched from a table. When his mother fell, Rapp gashed his throat with the same knife.

The police found the dead woman on the floor, her head beaten to a pulp and blood flowing from several knife wounds. Near her lay Rapp, with a wound in his neck, and blood gushing from two wounds in his breast, but still conscious. After he was taken to the hospital, the doctor stated that he had intended to kill the entire family.
